PERMITS IN ADVANCE

BUILDING STATISTICS FOR SEPTEMBER SHOW INCREASE IN NUMBER AND AMOUNT

It is gratifying to note as a sign of the slow but steady improvement in gentral business which is being recorded all over the country that the building permits in Glendale exceeded both in number and amount those of September last year, and mark a considerable advance over those of the months preceding. This September shows 35 permits, with a total Value of $25,515. That is the best record for any month this year. September, 1914, gave 27 permits, with a total of $23,000.

There is every indication that these conditions will continue to manifest similar tendency to improve. Some large buildings are being contemplated and there is a feeling of confidence in the business situation that was not observable last year. Following are the permits granted:

WORK AT KALEM STUDIO

These are busy days at the Kalem studio on Verdugo road. Mr. J. W. Horne is busy with the series known as "The Stingaree." His company this week is developing the striking picture known as "The Black Hole of Glen Ranald." Mr. Davis's company is working on "Crossed Wires." Mr. Horne received a telegraphic message the other day from New York headquarters stating that the recent court decision dissolving the so-called "Moving Picture Trust" will make no difference to the Kalem Company. "This company," says the wire, "will continue attending to its own business and putting all its energies into creating good pictures for the entertainment of the public."

COUNTERFEIT NICKELS

City Marshal Greenwood of Burbank reports that an individual who as yet remains undetected has been passing counterfeit nickels in that city. Quite a number of the spurious coins were put in circulation before the fraud was detected.

The marshal thinks that the coin passer is headed for Glendale, and has informed Chief Herald of the fact that he may warn the people of Glendale to keep a lookout for the false coinage.

REV. BEDE A. JOHNSON

TRANSFERED TO CITY CHURCH AFTER SUCCESSFUL PASTORATE HERE

With more of authority than the Roman officer historied in the Bible, who had merely to say to a subordinate, "Do this, and he doeth it." More than that exercised by the policeman in a throng, 'Move on," the Methodist Episcopal church machinery picks up her preachers at conference and pitches them about the conference boundary in a seeming careless way as if indifferent as to where or how the "movies" fell. Not so, the place for alighting may have been occasion for serious thought and debate by the cabinet before these shifts are made, and final orders to move, while somewhat autocratic and forceful, are issued sympathetically and kindly after consultation with the men by constituted authorities of the church to ministerial soldiers who, drilled in the school of obedience go when and where ordered to go with the sturdy step of the "Light Brigade" at Balaklava. "Theirs not to reason why." Obedient to these orders Rev. Bede A. Johnson came to Glendale two years ago and obedient now as then, he moves on.

He lost no time in getting bearings in the new field, but while mindful of his own church interests he manifested a laudable desire to assist his ministerial colleagues in every general effort to protect public morals—save the home and safeguard the youth. He was a fearless leader, or equally fearless assistant, in any organized effort against the insidious forces of evil, and was abreast of any in organizing and conducting the Brown and Curry campaign. He made successful effort to hold the youth and children within safe church influences by becoming one of them and with them in harmless plays and games, thus holding them from those of a more dangerous character.

His sermons were varied, spiritual and scholarly, and prayer meetings were of great spiritual interest and large numbers were benefited.

Pastor and family have endeared themselves to all in such a way that it is pleasant to believe that not a single person in Glendale but regrets their going, and says "God bless you" as they say "Goodbye."

While the good that is done cannot be measured the following figures will serve to show in a way what Rev. Johnson accomplished during his ministry here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pomeroy, of Rudd, Floyd County, Iowa, are in Glendale, guests of Mr. Pomeroy's nephew, F. W. Griggs of 1536 West Fifth street. Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy have been in attendance at the expositions at San Diego and San Francisco. Mr. Pomeroy has resided in Floyd County, Iowa, for forty years, and therefore can remember much of the early history of Iowa.

TWO CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

NEEDLES, CAL., WOMAN SEVERELY BURNED TRYING TO RESCUE OFFSPRING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEEDLES, Cal., Oct. 8.—The two children of J. Mardin were burned to death here today when fire destroyed the Mardin home. Their mother made a rush into the burning house in a frantic attempt to save her offspring. She was unable to penetrate the roaring furnace into which the house had been converted and staggered out again suffering from severe burns. It is thought that the explosion of a gasoline stove started the fire.

House in New York and will go to Philadelphia to witness the world's baseball series.

ALLIED AIRMEN RAID LIEGE

FRENCH AND BRITISH BLOW UP GERMAN SUPPLY DEPOTS IN BELGIAN CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Liege was awakened this morning in the early hours by a series of explosions that shook the city to its foundations. In the darkness all that could be discerned was the flitting forms of aeroplanes. It was afterwards ascertained that the air squadron consisted of French and British machines. Five heavy explosions were caused by the air bombs, which destroyed some of the German munitions depots.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE ON TRANSPORT

BRITISH TROOPSHIP EMPRESS OF BRITAIN BADLY DAMAGED BY FLAMES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 8.—The transport, Empress of Britain which has been conveying troops to the Dardanelles, was badly damaged by a mysterious fire that broke out in the hold this morning. The transport was lying off Mersey Island and while it is thought the fire was due to incendiaries there is no evidence as to its origin. The whole affair is a mystery.

GREECE TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

KING CONSTANTINE THROUGH PREMIER ZAIMIS ANNOUNCES "BENEVOLENT NEUTRALITY"

ATHENS, Oct. 8.—King Constantine, through the new Prime minister, Alexander Zaimis, announces that Greece will preserve an attitude of benevolent neutrality toward the allies. This is taken to mean that while the Greek army will not take part in the movement against the German invaders no attempt will be made to prevent the allies from landing troops on Greek soil to oppose the Teutons.

PHILLIES WIN FIRST OF SERIES

PHILADELPHIA BEATS BOSTON THREE TO ONE WITH ALEXANDER PITCHING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Philadelphia won the first game of the world's series today, after a strenuous contest. There was no score on either side in the first three innings. In the fourth Philadelphia scored one and when the game closed had added another two runs, beating Boston 3 to 1. For Philadelphia the batteries are Alexander and Burns; for Boston Shore and Cady.

Alexander did what was expected of him and the finely balanced staff of Corrigan were not able to touch him. The Red Sox have never faced a pitcher of Alexander's calibre. Shore for the Red Sox pitched a good game; but the high class of Alexander was too much for the Bostonian.

ADDITIONAL STATE SOLDIERS WERE POURED INTO CLIFTON, ARIZ., TO PREVENT TROUBLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CLIFTON, Ariz., Oct. 8.—Additional state troops reached the scene of the mine strike here today. Nonunion men who were driven from Morenci have gathered twelve miles from the town and are threatening to attack it.

BILLS FOR CLEAN LOTS

CITY WILL NOT PRESS FOR PAYMENT FOR WEED CUTTING TILL TAX TIME

"It might be well to let the public know that the greater part of the work of cleaning up the vacant lots is now finished," said City Manager Watson to a representative of The Glendale Evening News, "and we are beginning to make out bills for the expense. According to the power conferred on the city by the state law we could collect for this work at once.

"However, the city is exceedingly anxious to act in such a manner as not to lacerate the sensitiveness of anyone, and we will go slowly on this right of ours to get payment at once for this work. I believe that every citizen in Glendale is anxious to see the city clean. There has been a good deal of agitation on this matter of cleanliness, and the city council has often been taken to task for not enforcing the cleaning up of the lots. Now that the power is in our hands and the work has been done I feel sure that the citizenship of Glendale will feel proud of having the unsightly weeds cleared off.

"What is requisite now is that everyone join together and help to keep these lots clean. Next year there will be another crop of weeds. Owners of property will be well advised to get after the weeds in time, before they seed. If this should be done it will soon bring about the utter extirpation of the weeds that all summer made the city unsightly. The city will naturally keep a strict watch on this matter. When it is necessary after due notice the city itself will clean up the lots before it is possible for the weeds to seed.

"When I mention the power conferred on the city by the state law I touch on a mater of some delicacy. When the city goes into a man's lot and cuts the weeds for him and cuts the weeds on his sidewalk and burns them and cleans up the lot, it is coming very close to the line that separates individual rights from state or civic rights. The city management has no desire to trespass across that line. It follows the law and where the law can be stretched to favor the individual the city is willing to stretch it.

"In this case the city will send bills for the work done on vacant lots to the owners, but while any owner is welcome to pay his bill immediately on receipt, and such payment will be of service to the city, it is not necessary to do so. The city will be willing to wait and give individuals the privilege of paying these cleaning bills when they pay their regualr taxes.

"When the work has been entirely finished and all the weeds burned and all the cans cleaned off, it is hoped that the sight of a neat and trim city will so inspire all owners to keep the lots in order. I believe that with a little trouble those newly cleaned lots can be made very sightly. As the weeds have been cut down, they can be kept down, and some of the suggestions that have been made from time to time may be carried out.

"It woud be a nice thing to see every vacant lot covered with petunias as has been suggested; other flowers, too, could be sown and some attempt made to create a City Beautiful. I believe there was a committee for that purpose appointed at one time, but it dropped out of sight without having accomplished much. It might be revived or the new Garden Society might endeavor to help in this matter."

ORGANIZED EFFORT

In every city and in every community there should be organizations whose purpose it is to further the promotion of all worthy projects. It should be the desire of every well meaning citizen to be identified with some such organization, not for selfish purposes, but with a view of aiding in bettering the conditions of the community in which he resides.

In the Glendale community the Chamber of Commerce is the orzanization to which should belong the men who are anxious to do the very most possible for the community.

Ideas of a number of people, when crystallized, have sufficient force to result in doing great good in a community. The Glendale Chamber of Commerce should have a membership of one thousand men. The attendance at every meeting should be such that the largest room in the city will be filled to overflowing. An intelligent people united on propositions that are for the building up of the city and the community will accomplish great things.

WEATHER FORECAST

FOOTBALL ENTERS

BARACA ELEVEN OF PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL PLAY SAN FERNANDO HIGH

American football now enters the sporting limelight in Glendale. For three years the Presbyterian Sunday School Baraca class has placed a team in the local field.

This year a team has been organized which gives promise of being a winner. The first game scheduled is with the San Fernando High School at the up-valley town.

Among those boys and young men who have been out at nightly rehearsals for the opening of the season are: "Peanuts" Jackson, Harry Glazier, Bob Kolts, Jack Robertshaw, Jamie Shea, Ken Perrin, Merle Eckles, Johnny Sharpe, Bill Morse, Ralph Carmichael, George Grist, Joe Wilson, Tom McIver, Galen Gould and several others.

The American game, which the Glendale boys are playing, has come into its own in Southern California this year. Changes in rules have made it a safer game than Rugby and soccer has never met the popular approval from the sidelines. Further, the latter two games are difficult to understand, while the American brand is more aggressive and exciting.

GET ACQUAINTED PARTY

Mrs. E. H. Willisford's "Get Acquainted" parties are attracting much attention in church circles. As a means of creating a kindly social feeling among members of the same church they have been a great success. New members are taken at once into the family circle of the church and made to feel at home. Another of those popular parties was given at the Congregational parsonage Thursday night. New members and old members mingled together and felt like old friends. Everybody helped with the refreshments and all had a good time. Fancy work and sewing gave employment to all hands. Mrs. Willisford gave pencil and paper to each lady present and had each take down the addresses of all present, along with the date when they came to Glendale and the place they came from. Those present were: Miss Calla Porter, 821 West Fifth; Miss Neva Storm, 142 South Kenwood; Mrs. W. I. Hildebrand, 337 North Maryland; Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham, 1414 Salem; Mrs. Irene McReynolds, 529 South Central; Mrs. G. A. Waterman, 1530 Sycamore; Mrs. R. H. Lord, 1532 West First; Mrs. W. C. Alvord, 1414 West Broadway; Mrs. B. E. Coates, 128 Kenwood; Mrs. A. H. Chapman, 1435 Salem; Mrs. S. L. Ellis, 1463 West Third; Miss Maud Cunningham, 1440 West Third; Mrs. A. A. Tyler, 1544 Pioneer drive; Mrs. Mabel Ocker, 1498 West Third; Mrs. L. Anna Shindler, 1206 1-2 West Broadway; Miss Helen Goldthwaite, 338 Orange; Mrs. H. W. Yarick, 1447 West Third, and the hostess, Mrs. E. H. Willisford. Several who were invited did not attend on account of other engagements, and thereby missed a very enjoyable and profitable evening.

ATTENDS CLUB OPENING

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, of 106 Orange street, as a member of the Los Angeles District Board of Woman's Clubs, was a guest Tuesday at the opening meeting of the San Pedro Woman's Club. Mrs. Florence Schoeneman, president of the club, entertained the ladies at luncheon at Point Fermin, after which they were escorted to the beautiful new club house, the site for which was given to the club by Mrs. Schoeneman's mother, who is of the third generation of the Sepulveda family to whom the original Spanish grant to the land was given. Mrs. Schoeneman was asked to lay aside her modesty and tell the ladies of some of the interesting bits of history with which she is familiar as a member of this fine old Spanish family. Like many localities hereabouts, San Pedro and Point Fermin are rich in history and romance. "When the first Spanish grants were made by the king," Mrs. Schoeneman told the ladies, "sixty families held all the land between San Pedro and San Francisco," and the site for this club house was never out of the Sepulveda family since the grant was first given them by the king of Spain until the transfer was recently made to the Woman's Club. Mrs. Schoeneman told many interesting things about the early history of her family in California. She said the older Spanish people always have a longing for Spain and have never grown accustomed to the ways of the Americans. The ladies also learned that the light was first turned on in the lighthouse at Point Firmin in 1874, and has been burning constantly since that time.

MORE NATIONS TAKE THE PLUNGE

If diplomacy is a thing to be admired, the kind of diplomacy which makes the use of a deliberate falsehood to gain one's ends a virtue, then the central powers of Europe have a right to commendation. They have, without doubt, handled the situation in the Balkans, up to this point, with consummate skill. Germany, for it is to German methods in diplomacy that any successes obtained in manipulating the Balkan nations is to be attributed, exerted her power from the beginning to keep Bulgaria out of the war until such time as that country could be used as a catspaw for the purposes of the central powers.

That this was accomplished has been a triumph for German diplomacy. It is more than probable that the allies never dreamed for a moment that Bulgaria, with all her ties of friendship with Russia and Britain, would ever join hands with Germany, Austria and her old foe, Turkey. Yet it is impossible to count on what a nation may or may not do. Czar Ferdinand and King Constantine of Greece were trump cards in the Kaiser's hands. He had carefully calculated on them long before. His relatives by marriage, they had a strong predilection for Germany and might have been counted on with some certainty to support the head of their family.

When the time was ripe the Kaiser played his two trump cards and the allies are dumbfounded. What remains to be seen is whether the people of Bulgaria will follow their sovereign in his bid for more territory, or whether they will repudiate him and demand that the country be faithful to its pledges to its old friends. It is pretty certain that they will never have courage to take the latter course. Up to this point there has not appeared a man in Bulgaria of sufficient caliber to handle such a situation. There may be men, doubtless there are. If so, Czar Ferdinand will have them promptly shot. Already he is sending troops to terrorize some districts where the populace has shown a desire to rebel against the decree that is to send them against their former friends.

In Greece, the brother-in-law of the Kaiser, King Constantine, has played his illustrious relative's game excellently well. Premier Venizelos, the people's minister, has been dismissed and a coalition ministry formed. It is needless tosay that unless co-erced by the people the cabinet will obey the King. Constantine will scarcely have the hardihood to seek to make the Greeks act against the allies, but will do the Kaiser invaluable service if he can keep the nation neutral.

There is always the possibility of revolution striking either Greece or Bulgaria, or even both. Even then it would be the Kaiser who would profit and not the allies. In the disturbed condition of those countries it would be an easy matter for the Germans to drive through to Constantinople.

On the other hand, the allies are already landing troops at Saloniki, and will have a certain body ready to oppose the German drive. It may be that in this, as in other matters that needed a policy based on the baseness of human character and specially on the trickery of diplomatic policy in Europe, they have allowed themselves to be tricked by the central powers. In that case they will pay dearly for their hesitation and lack of decision.

As the war has gone on it has become more and more clear that Constantinople is a key position. Should the allies get in there first the central powers might as well give up. Should the central powers succeed in their drive across to Constantinople, the war will continue indefinitely and probably will be without result. Again, it may be that the allies have discounted the situation and are prepared for it.

Wherever there is good land thither will the farmer be attracted especially if he is offered such land on reasonable terms. Canada is always reaching out for the best class of settler that can be obtained. To such she is willing to make concessions on so liberal a scale that many Americans have been attracted by them and have settled in the Canadian Northwest, severing their connection with their own country. It is stated that the influx of farmers from the Western States of the United States has been as heavy this year as in 1914 when many thousands went to the northern section of the continent. It is also stated by the commissioner of immigration of Manitoba that for the first time on record the demand for Manitoba homesteads nearly approximate the demands for free lands in Saskatchewan. Canada is getting very much the best of this situation. The American farmers are experienced and are plentifully supplied with money and outfits. Canada is extremely liberal toward the intending settlers and this liberality is bringing these settlers to that country at the expense of the United States.

As further proof that the poorer rather than the richer must bear the larger share of the cost of government, statistics sent out from Washington show that while persons with incomes of $500,000 a year and upward paid only $6,439,000 into the treasury on income tax account for the last fiscal year, those with incomes of more than $3000 and $4000 and up to $20,000 paid $16,000,000. It cannot be said that the latter class are poor in the ordinary sense. They are poor only by comparison with those in the multi-millionaire class. There is at present no means of determining which of the two classes finds it harder to make the income tax forms look as if there had been no intention to keep anything back.

WAR ODDITIES

LONDON.—That King George is human was strikingly illustrated on his latest visit to the wounded in a London hospital.

Passing through a ward, the King asked a wounded "Tommy" how he was fed.

"They feed us like cattle," answered the soldier.

"You don't mean they feed you on hay?" was the King's immediate rejoinder.

When the "Tommy" recovered speech the King was gone.

Austria's coal production in 1914 was 3,750,000 tons less than in 1913—a decrease of neary 12 per cent.

UNION OF TEACHERS

The American Federation of Labor will make a last ditch fight in behalf of the Chicago union of school teachers. Those influences which oppose the Chicago Teachers' Federation are today preparing their appeal from the temporary injunction restraining the Board of Education from carrying out the now famous Loeb rule expelling teachers who decline to leave the federation, and compelling all applicants for positions to sign a pledge that they will not become members of any similar organization.

Of course, if the higher court upholds the injunction, making it permanent, the matter will drop there, with a glowing victory for organized labor. If, however, the higher court decides in favor of the Loeb rule, the entire matter will ultimately be decided at the polls.

Members of the Board of Education are appointed by the mayor. If he continues in office men and women openly antagonistic to the teachers' union, labor has threatened to elect a mayor who will be favorable to the union.

Miss Margaret Haley, head of the union, openly charges that big business is back of the fight, on the federation, which comprises perhaps one-half of the 8000 Chicago School teachers. Important Chicago interests hold, under very favorable terms, school lands in the heart of Chicago's business district. Under a 99-year lease they pay nominal rental on a valuation much smaller than that placed on lands held in title of private individuals, in some instances directly adjoining the school-owned lands.

The union school teachers, shortly after organization, moved for higher salaries. When told no money was available, they pointed to low rentals paid for school lands, and to the fact that many large corporations were undertaxed.

"Collect the proper rentals and taxes and the money will be available," they said.

They did more. They went before the legislature and the tax boards. They agitated at public meetings. They even went to State's Attorney Hoyne who is now considering alleged facts which the union leaders want put before the grand jury.

The fight was further complicated by the religious issue, always a factor in the politics of Chicago. Factions appeared in the schools—anti-union against union teachers.

The anti-union majority on the school board struck quick and hard. "Leave the federation or leave the schools," was the order to the teachers. Some obeyed. Some stood pat. Some, who had never belonged to the federation, and really preferred not to join the organization, when pledges were asked that they never would join, flatly refused to sign.

The teachers had won a salary increase, but it was administered by the board. "Sign a pledge to abandon the union or no salary increase," was the dictum. Again the courts were appealed to. Again a deadlock.

Enemies of the federation said: "The union has no place in the schools. It has disorganized the entire system. Teachers are no longer looking to the school head for orders, but to the union head. The teaching force is divided into cliques, and the entire school discipline is endangered."

Union leaders in and out of the schools met this with denials and by counter charges that the fight against the union teachers had been engineered by corporation lawyers and union-baiters who had become alarmed by the disclosures made by union officials of tax dodgers and deals in school land leases and contracts.

Fathers and mothers and even children have been drawn into the fight on one side or the other. There is no such word as neutrality. And the most unique labor war in the history of the Central West is in full swing.

FASHIONABLE DAMSEL OF 1915

What matter if this be a vale of tears if you are all done up in a veil of lace? Who's going to know whether your face is leaking or wearing a smile that won't come off.

Salome was awfully careless about discarding every one of her seven veils at once, but the maid today is much more circumspect and never appears without at least one. This headstrong dancer of old was supposed to have quite a collection of these filmy articles of apparel, in fact, quite a corner on the veil market, but any fashionable damsel of 1915 turns up her nose behind one of her fifty-seven varieties and sniffs disdainfully at poor old Sal's paltry seven.

When you take the veil, however, be sure and take a smart one. The wide black meshed ones with a deep and intricate black lace border are simply stunning, and are worn gathered in closely to a tiny black turban like a skull cap and then flare out like a lamp shade or the full skirt of a premier danseuse.

The question of length is a vital proposition with these new bouffant veils. The more elaborate lace ones fall well down around the wearers shouders and bust, while others with but a narrow border flare out piquantly just level with your chin.

Many of the smartest hats are made with the veil already attached. It is as vital an adjunct as a flower or a feather.

Besides the lovely black lace ones there are smart taupe, brown and blue ones in a medium mesh with embroidered edges in conventional designs like the Greek key or the Wall of Troy.

The borders for veils, of course, offer wonderful opportunities for the display of versatility and originality among designers, and already we have fringe and fur playing the role of veil edging, while metallic borders of galoon or tinsel are used on veils through the meshes of which threads of silver and gold gleam fitfully.

You are to be kidded a lot about your top coat this fall, for the toppiest top coats of them all are made of white kid, if you please. Amazingly startling they are, too, with linings of brilliant green, scarlet, purple or orange. Others of white oilcloth vie with the kid effects and linings are more often in serge in these coats than of silk. Grey kid and tan are also shown, but naturally the white creations are the newest and most striking of garments. Oh, you kid coat, you're bound to get milady's goat if doting hubby doesn't come through for one.

Leather and kid trimmings are very good for frocks and blouses as well as coats and buttons and bindings of bright colored leathers and up-to-date touches to many a fall and winter toilet.

You simply can't get away from fur, however, no matter if you go further and strip the animal of his inner skin. Beaver bandings on seal brown satin or chiffon velvet is one of the loveliest combinations of the season, and you can't go far wrong if you acquire a gown of either of these two materials beaver banded.

Skunk banding on amythist satin is charming, although skunk is mighty expensive this year. They are offering as a substitute flying squirrel fur, but the effect is hardly a happy one, as the flying squirrel is soft and matted looking and undoubtedly would show to advantage only on a galloping horse or, well, say a fying squirrel.

As a matter of fact and good taste an imitation fur banding is worse than none, but if you have the price there's really nothing to beat the band this season, provided its a real fur band.

VEGETABLE PHILOSOPHY

Be like the cabbage—get ahead.
Though on a small celery,
Just manifest an onion's strength
And climb adversity.

Lettuce us all be up and doing,
Things don't turnip when we wait.
If we use a little pepper,
We can beet decree of fate.

Be as patient as a wormwood
Try to cast dull care away,
And some thyme you'll see the radish
Dawning of a brighter day.

CHOW CHOW

The first thing thought of in September at our home is chow chow. Below I give the recipe we use, which has been spoken of by good cooks as the best they ever ate. This will make enough for the average sized family: 1 quart beans, green and yellow; 1 quart sliced whole cucumbers, 1 quart small button onions, 1 quart sliced green tomatoes, 1 large cauliflower cut into flowers, 4 green peppers cut fine. Make a brine of 1 pint salt in just enough water to cover the vegetables and let stand 24 hours; then heat the entire mixture just enough to scald, and turn into a colander to drain, throwing the salt water away. Mix 1 cup flour, 6 tablespoons mustard and 1 tablespoon tumeric with enough vinegar to make a paste. Add 1 cup sugar and enough vinegar to make 2½ quarts in all. Boil this mixture until it thickens and is smooth, stirring all the time. Finally add vegetables and cook until thoroughly heated.

EDENDALE CAR HELD UP

Edendale car No. 175 was held up last night in the usual place. The lone bandit got away with $17.51 The hold up took place at the end of the Edendale line, which is conveniently close to a thick grove of trees in a lonely spot. The car had just reached its destination and the car men were engaged in their usual arrangements when the bandit emerged from the convenient trees. He appeared to be a man about 35 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighing about 160 pounds. He was dressed in a brown coat, dark trousers, soft dark hat; had a white handkerchief mask and a blue automatic gun. This is the sixth or seventh time that the Edendale car has been held up and robbed in the charming and romantic spot at Klondike Park, which has been selected for its terminus.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

This evening closes a most successful pre-communion week, the attendance at the various meetings has been good, and the interest more than usual. Doctor Shaw of Immanuel Church, will deliver the regular quarterly preparatory sermon this evening at 7:30, to which the general public is invited.

LADIES' AID MEETS

At the recent meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist church of Glendale there was a large attendance. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Phillip, corner of Brand and Third, Tuesday afternoon. The large crowd present was charmed with the commodious and beautiful rooms in which they were received. The usual business was transacted and a pleasant social time enjoyed. AID FIREMEN'S CONTEST

Among the societies that are active in the contest for the piano offered by the Southern California Music Company are the volunteer firemen of Glendale. Those young men have been faithful in the performance of their duties and have rendered efficient aid on every occasion when there has been a fire. Their meeting place at night is the fire house, where they remain practically on duty for several hours. It is to the interest of the city to provide such amusement for them there as will induce them to stay in those by no means attractive quarters. Vote for the fireboys. Go to the Southern California Music Company's store, 316 Brand boulevard, and register your vote for the firemen. You don't need to make a purchase. Call at the store and secure a special coupon, fill it out and deposit it there. There are other organizations in the contest, but none so deserving of public support as the volunteer firemen. They are performing an inestimable service for the city during their hours of watching as well as during their hours of active work. Help to bring some music into the dullness of their evenings in the firehouse.

TROPICO

Thus far the city marshal has been unable to discover any clue to the person who entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Peck Sunday evening and took several articles of jewelry from the jewel box of Miss Amy Miller, daughter of Mrs. Peck. The theft occurred between the hours of seven and eight, while Mr. and Mrs. Peck and Miss Miller were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spear, of Penn street. The burglar escaped through a window in a rear bed chamber, as Mr. and Mrs. Peck came in a rear door. The entrance was affected through a kitchen window. Mr. Peck immediately notified City Marshal Gould, who hastened to the Peck residence. The measurements of the tracks in the fresh upturned soil beneath the window, where the burglar sprung when escaping, were taken, as well as other evidences. The articles taken consisted of a gold watch, necklace and locket, with Miss Miller's monogram engraved therein; an emerald ring, several beauty pins and other articles of jewelry, a Mexican half dollar and a quarter.

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh of North Central avenue, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Davis of Pasadena.

City Attorney and Mrs. Harry Goodwin, of Tenth street, have returned from a delightful summer's vacation trip enjoyed in San Francisco and Yosemite valley.

Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Smith and family will vacate the parsonage adjoining the First Methodist Episcopal church during next week, and will take up their residence in Los Angeles, where Dr. Smith has become connected with the University of Southern California. Rev. and Mrs. Ford, the former recently appointed pastor of the Tropico church, will occupy the parsonage.

The Tropico branch of the Parent-Teacher Association held a very interesting meeting in the Cerritos school this afternoon.

Rev. Ford, the recently appointed pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Tropico, will conduct the usual Sunday services, morning and evening. Rev. Ford comes from the Hamilton Methodist Episcopal church of Los Angeles, and is a most brilliant and interesting speaker.

Nothing is a mystery to the man who understands.

The man who earns the money he is spending is quite careful how he spends it.

SAUER KRAUT

Use only solid heads of cabbage. Slice in long, thin strips and fill your crock or keg 6 inches deep; then salt sparingly, using no more salt than would be used in cooking the same amount of cabbage. Pound until the cabbage is firm but not watery. Repeat the layers of cabbage, salting and pounding each time, until the keg is full to within 6 inches of the top. Then lay on some cabbage leaves, and a clean cloth large enough to cover. Lastly put on a board cover a little smaller than the top of the keg. Weight it down with a heavy weight, and throw a loose cloth over the top to keep out the dust. Keep in the kitchen for four or five weeks. If the brine has not risen over the board by the second day, pour in water, slightly salted, to cover. Remove the weight, the board and the inner cloth every few days and wash in two or three cold waters to remove scum. When fermentation ceases set in a cool cellar.

The unspeakable pity is that such magnificent men should be given up to the slaughter of a war that might have been averted.

LEARN OF OUR OWN COUNTRY

In a recent issue of The Evening News reference was made to the importance of learning about the beauties and attractions within the United States before in reality, or in imagination, spending valuable time rambling in foreign lands.

People of America truly love things that are American. There is so much to see, and there is so much to learn about in America that it is scarcely necessary to cross the ocean only for the purpose of getting a general knowledge of the characteristics of our Eastern continent neighbors.

The United States with her net work of railroads, connecting the thousands of cities; the United States with her rich soils and valuable minerals; the United States with her vast pastures full of live stock; the United States with her well organized High School system; the United States with her many normal schools and colleges; the United States with her thousands of churches; the United States, populated by the noblest people to be found in any nation of the world, is dear in the hearts of every American citizen.

MY LAND

Oh! She's a fresh and fair land;
She is a rich and rare land;
She is a clear and rare land
This native land of mine.

She's not a dull or cold land;
No! She's a warm and bold land;
Oh! She's a true and old land—
This native land of mine.

Oh! She's a fresh and fair land!
Oh! She's a true and rare land;
Yes! She's a rare and fair land—
This native land of mine.

PRUNE SOUFFLE

One half pound prunes, four eggs, three tablespoonfuls sugar, one teaspoonful vanila, a pinch of salt. Beat yolks until creamy, add sugar, vanilla, salt and prunes, which have been stewed and chopped. Stir in whites, and pour into a souffle dish, and bake in a good oven 20 to 25 minutes. This makes a good big souffle.

PROFUSION OF LACE

One of the most noticeable features in the development of Paris fashions which are intended for summer use is the profusion of lace and embroidery ideas, writes Noelie de La Sablere in the Lace and Embroidery Review. It may be said almost to rule the season. Whatever else may enter into the fashions, the tendency to lace and embroidery will not grow less, but, on the contrary, is expected to become more pronounced.
